Cal OES Coastal Region

Paul's Slide, State Route 1, Monterey County

Per Cal OES Coastal Duty Officer (CDO), as of 1300 hours on 05/25/17, Paul's Slide on State Route 1 has been closed to all traffic.

- Caltrans engineers report slide activity and the area has been closed in the interest of public safety.
- Assessment will commence and further details will be provided once released.
- State Route 1 opened briefly on 06/02/17 for locals and delivery access. Full closure resumed the evening of 06/02/17 through Tuesday 06/06/17 in the evening.

Mud Creek Slide, State Route 1, Monterey County

The Mud Creek area on State Route 1 sustained a major slide on the evening of 05/20/17, when over a million tons of rock and dirt fell down the slope continuing down to the ocean floor 250 feet off the shoreline.

- The Mud Creek area is ¼ mile in length, made up of five slides, four of which fell during this single incident and consolidated into one slide. The remaining slide now extends 1,500 feet in length over State Route 1 and is about 35 to 40 feet deep.
- Roadwork at Mud Creek was suspended and heavy equipment removed last week due to the threat of new slides and for safety of highway workers. Caltrans geologists and engineers plan to assess it further when this area stabilizes.
- There is no estimate when this section of State Route 1, approximately nine miles north of the San Luis Obispo/Monterey County line will re-open.

Pfeiffer Bridge Incident, Monterey County

California Highway Patrol (CHP) and Caltrans had a hard closure on the Pfeiffer Bridge on HWY 1 at mile marker 45.52 (SB Sycamore Canyon and the Bridge) due to a crack in the bridge. The bridge has been demolished so the road is closed and estimates for some access from the north is late September 2017.

- Backup air medical transport plans have been developed for medical emergencies through Cal OES Law Enforcement Branch.
- All businesses north of the Pfeiffer Canyon Bridge closure are open to the public.

WEATHER OF CONCERN

Weather of Concern

- A cool weekend is going to be in store for Northern California with high temperatures running 10-20 degrees below normal. We will also see the chance for showers in the mountains on Saturday. Shower chances will continue on Sunday and we could see a few thunder storms mix in, they will be more isolated in the Valley. Snow is expected above 5000 feet on Sunday and could cause some travel issues.
- Thunderstorms and rain showers north of Fresno. A couple inches of snow is also possible above 7000 feet in the Yosemite Park region. Strong winds are possible over the Kern County mountains and desert as well with gusts of 55 to 70 mph possible on Sunday. By Monday, the storm system begins to exit the area, and temperatures will still remain well below average.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

Low pressure will produce cool, wet, unsettled weather throughout Northern California until early Tuesday. Occasional showers and thunderstorms will be widely scattered in the mountains and isolated at lower elevations and east of the Cascade-Sierra crest. S-W winds will gust to 25-35 mph in wind-prone higher elevations in the east this afternoon and Saturday afternoon. Temperatures will be 10-15 degrees below normal through Monday. On Sunday, when the low pressure center is expected to move directly over Northern California, temperatures may be 20 degrees below normal, and snow levels will come down to 5000-6000 ft.

By late Monday the low will be in the Great Basin and a NW flow pattern will be in place over Northern California. Showers and isolated thunderstorms will linger in the eastern mountains until early Tuesday while the remainder of the region begins a drying and warming trend. The remainder of next week will be breezy and warmer than average with a slight chance of showers in the northern mountains.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

A Pacific trough dropping down the West Coast will bring strong westerly winds to the mountains and deserts through this weekend. Winds will be 20 to 30 mph with gusts to 50 mph across the wind prone areas through Saturday morning and then the winds will increase to 25 mph to 40 mph with gusts to 60 mph Saturday afternoon through Sunday night. Isolated showers will occur from a Monterey/Fresno County line northward this morning and again on Sunday. The marine layer will be deep through this weekend, with morning low clouds and fog making it over the lower coastal mountain slopes. Temperatures will cool through the weekend and be 10 to 15 degrees below normal by Sunday. Maximum temperatures will be around 5 degrees below normal today, with 60s to low 70s across the mountains and mid 70s to mid 80s in the valleys. Minimum humidity will be mainly above 30% away from the deserts through this weekend. A ridge of high pressure will build northward from Mexico bringing a warming and drying trend next week. Temperatures will be 10 to 15 degrees above normal by the end of next week.
